15 Las Vegas model Casinos planned in Karnataka

Casinos at Las Vegas in the United States of America. Pictures for representation only.

Bengaluru / Mysuru, Feb. 22 (KMS&BCT)- To facilitate industrialists to explore newer business avenues and at the same time to enable the State to rake in more revenues, the Tourism Department is considering opening Casinos, following the model of Las Vegas.

These Casino Centres (Gambling Centres) will help the State retain tourists who otherwise escape to Goa or Sri Lanka which have such Casinos.

Fifteen such Gambling Centres will be set up and the proposal prepared by the Tourism Department mentions six Centres in Bengaluru, three each in Mangaluru and Belagavi, one each in Mysuru, Davanagere and Hubballi.

Tourism Minister C.T. Ravi is keen on establishing such Casino parlours in the State to generate more revenue and also provide an avenue for industrialists to expand their business.

C.T. Ravi, who spoke about the project to a section of media, however, said that gambling will be allowed only for international tourists and the common man's interest will be protected.

Citing the example of Las Vegas — one of the most popular destinations for gambling — as a model which the Department wants to replicate, Ravi said, "We need to learn from cities like Las Vegas to attract and entertain tourists. Even today, international tourists who visit Karnataka fly away to Sri Lanka or Goa just because they allow gambling."

Though the project is still in a conceptual stage, the Minister hinted that these Casinos will have facilities on par with cities best known for gambling.

"Our idea is to promote Las Vegas' model of gambling and it will be a restricted entry and will be set up in such a manner that it only attracts tourist crowd," the Minister added.

The Minister clarified that the Tourism Department would not invest in the Casino projects but would be investor-driven. The State Government will just make policy and monitor the operations, he added.

Dasara 2020 publicity blitzkrieg from April

Tourism Minister C.T. Ravi hopes to attract more international tourists enabling them to plan their itinerary in advance

Tourism Minister C.T. Ravi addressing FKCCI members during an interaction on Tourism Development at FKCCI premises in Bengaluru on Thursday.

Bengaluru / Mysuru, Feb. 22 (KMS&BCT)- In order to provide a boost to sagging tourism in Mysuru, the State Tourism Department will launch Dasara publicity blitzkrieg in April this year, six months ahead of Dasara, to attract local, national and international tourists.

Minister for Kannada, Culture and Tourism C.T. Ravi told reporters at an interactive meet organised by the Federation of Karnataka Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FKCCI) in Bengaluru on Thursday that currently the State was lagging in holding promotional activities. "To attract more international tourists during Dasara 2020, the State Tourism Department will start promotional activities six months early this time," he said.

"This early promotion will avoid confusion and Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa will chair the High-powered Dasara Committee meeting in April itself where the funds will be released. After this, publicity campaigns can be initiated and also, officials will get more time to carry out Dasara development works instead of carrying it out in the last moment," Ravi said and added that the Department was trying to include Dasara grants proposal in the Budget document to be presented by the CM on March 5.

Salvaging Society

Human beings all over the world are vying with the elements in creating conditions threatening the survival of plants, animals and life-supporting resources, not to forget their own orderly living. Many of these conditions, mistakenly portrayed as problems, are the result of blunders by people at large as well as those in the ruling class framing policies and acting unmindful of the adverse consequences. The issue of climate change, debates on which in various forums have got clouded by other issues such as plastic menace, unabated spread of deadly viruses, inter-country trade wars, forest fires and so on. Indiscreet and excessive use of the multitude products of modern technology such as motorised transport, electronic goods, pest-control chemicals, synthetic fertilisers and so on being monumental blunders, not taking corrective steps, despite being clear about the devastation they are causing is a super-blunder that cannot be pardoned. The many problems attributed to the elements, namely earth tremors, floods, droughts, pestilence and so on are tackled as and when they bug the earth's life-forms, but the problems caused by blundering humanity triggers one to remark that the human species is the real problem.

The time-honoured structure of the family, the virtual miniature model of the society, has witnessed disfavour to a significant extent in the land's population, grossly upsetting the culture of sharing both difficulties of daily life and inputs of the members in overcoming the hardships. A society made up of families characterised by self-created disharmony cannot be expected in turn to contribute to a healthy country aiming at socio-economic stability and progress. India finds itself in a tight corner as it were right now.

In the backdrop of the country's masses struggling to make both ends meet in their daily life, the sections in the population endowed with intellect and the sense of duty have their task cut out namely to lay the road map for solving societal problems and stopping the unabated committing of blunders by both stakeholders and stockholders of the nation's resources as its assets. There is no dearth of human resources in the land, particularly the millions of educated youth seeking employment, but the ideas for marshalling their capabilities have to be formulated to strengthen the hands of the nation's technocrats, who are the true engines driving the nation in the path of progress. The reported event in Mysuru early this week, called Ideathon, organised by a voluntary group of young Indians, a contest for academics, augurs well for achieving the goal of many societal problems.

The seed for the nation's tree of progress by means for salvaging society has been sown in the city. Given the enormous change taking place in all spheres of life in the country, particularly the march of digital technology, the players in the national effort need to be wary of indiscretion and excessive use of products emerging from their inventions. That is the lesson that past events teach us.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Praise keeps relationships well-oiled. When mature couples begin to find each other irritating, something invaluable is getting gnawed away, until the day people are shocked to hear of their separation. A kind word, a sincere compliment, a timely uttered "Thank You" can grow any relationship into a valuable friendship. Imagine if husband and wife communicated more to praise than to damn, would it not cement their bonds better? Great doctors and their medical teams praise their patients, compliment them, show care and compassion to help them recover. Tender Loving Care (TLC) is an important factor in the healing of patients. Just being made to feel good helps them look at themselves positively and induces optimism in them that they will recover quickly. — Viney Kirpal in The Hindu

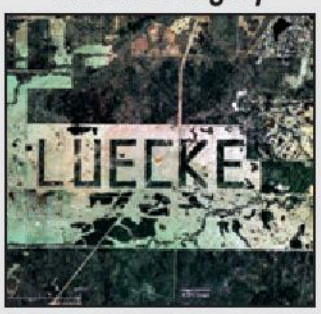
Bird uses its beak as a needle to stitch its nest

Similan Islands: As kids, we had learnt that birds build their nests out of twigs and dry grass, but the truth is that architecture of bird nest varies greatly, as demonstrated by the tiny Tailor Bird, which uses its beak as a needle to stitch a protective nest out of leaves.

Orthotomus sutorius, or the Common Tailor Bird, is a small, warbler-like songbird that lives in tropical Asia, but it's not its singing that's intriguing, it's the bird's nest building skills. It stitches one or two solid tree leaves together to create a cup that provides both a comfortable shelter and camouflage from predators. The female tailor bird uses its sharp beak as a needle to first pierce the leaves, then takes cobwebs or plant fibers and guides it through the holes as thread, until the pouch is nice and secure. It's unclear how the tailor birds picked up this talent for sewing but it's clear that it is passed on genetically.

World's largest signature used by NASA to analyse satellite imagery



Texas: A Texas farmer, who decided to clear up some new grazing land for his cattle by leaving up just enough trees to spell his name in giant letters, probably never imagined that his signature would one day be used by NASA to evaluate the quality of their satellite cameras.

Jimmie Luecke was a young Texas State trooper who left the highway patrol in 1980 to try his luck in the oil business. He was lucky enough to became a millionaire and invested most of his profits in land outside the town of Smithville. He started raising cattle on it and by the late 1990's his heard had gotten so large that he needed to clear up some more of his land of trees for grazing. Only he didn't just settle for bulldozing all the trees, he decided to write his name in the process, thus creating the world's largest signature.

Really...?

- Bengaluru is regarded as the IT capital or 'Silicon Valley' of India should come as no surprise, considering the number of engineers it churns out. The city houses a few hundred engineering colleges, which are affiliated to Bengaluru University. Of course, many of these have sprung up to cater to the growing demand for engineering.
- Contrary to popular belief, Mumbai and Delhi were not the first cities to make this monumental transition. Bengaluru was the first city to be electrified in India, way back in 1905. This task was completed with the help of a hydroelectric power plant at Shivanasamudra on the banks of River Cauvery.

Maintain cleanliness in Maharaja's College campus

Sir,

Maharaja's College in Mysuru is known for its heritage and history; more than this it is recognised for the famous personalities it has produced. But today we can see many plastic wastes spilled all over the college campus.

Students throw the waste items wherever they want and sometimes the pedestrians also throw the wastes in the college premises. Even though there are many dustbins in the campus people don't take the trouble to dispose them in the bins.

The sweepers are doing their best to keep the college campus clean but they are unsuccessful. If this is the case in the most reputed college of Mysuru, then how can we expect to win the 'Swachh Survekshan Award'? Hence I request the citizens to keep the city clean and always use dustbins to throw the wastes.

Lithium reserve discovered in remote Mandya villages

Boon for electric mobility in India

Mandya, Feb. 22 (Nagaiah &BCT)- In what could be a major boost to India's electric vehicle dreams, researchers have discovered lithium reserves in Mandya district, a first in India.

Researchers at the Atomic Minerals Directorate (AMD), a unit of India's Atomic Energy Commission, have estimated lithium reserves of 14,100 tonnes in a small patch of land surveyed in Allapatna-Marlagalla, Karighatta and surrounding areas in Srirangapatna taluk, according to a paper to be published in the forthcoming issue of journal 'Current Science'.

"The present data provides a total estimation of available Li2O (Lithium Oxide) as about 30,300 tonnes over an area of 0.5 km x 5 km, which works out to about 14,100 tonnes of lithium metal," the report quoted N. Munichandraiah, Emeritus Professor at the Indian Institute of Science, Bengaluru.

"The recent core drilling in a small area of 30 mts X 440 mts at Marlagalla has led to an estimated 1,600 tonnes of Li with an average grade of 0.246 wt%," said the researchers.

Following this discovery, Mandya Deputy Commissioner M.V. Venkatesh, accompanied by Scientist Rajesh and Tahsildar Roopa, visited Allapatna. He also sought a report from the Department of Mines and Geology.

Deputy Director, Mines and Geology, Pushpa said the exercise to trace reserves of minerals such as lithium demands many critical steps such as core drilling.

"Scientists have been exploring the area for rare minerals since 20 years in an area of 18 kilometres. A report on lithium deposits has been submitted to the Union Government. The discovery is still in preliminary stage and further tests will be conducted to find the ways and means to extract lithium and the costs involved,' the DC said.

The discovery could be a booster shot for India's environmentally-friendly electric plans. Currently, India imports lithium, from Argentina, Bolivia and Chile to meet its needs. Indian manufacturers source Li-ion batteries from China, Japan and South Korea. India is among the largest importers of Lithium in the world.

With a surge in usage of lithium batteries over the past couple of years, India's lithium imports have tripled from 2016-17 to 2018-19. According to the Centre's estimates, lithium battery imports stood at $929 million in eight months to November, 2019.

However, the lithium discovery in Mandya is limited compared to other countries. For instance, lithium deposit in Chile is 8.6 million tonnes, 2.8 million tonnes in Australia, 1.7 million tonnes in Argentina and 60,000 tonnes in Portugal.

The Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) manufactures lithium batteries but they are restricted for use in space applications. These are also limited in volumes. China dominates the Li-ion battery market. The Government has announced investments worth 1.4 billion dollars to make India one of the largest manufacturing hubs for electric vehicles by 2040.

Mandya Deputy Commissioner M.V. Venkatesh interacting with officials from Atomic Minerals Directorate on the discovery of Lithium deposits in a few Mandya villages.

We thought it was Kaage Bangara, say farmers, demanding compensation

Even as the Atomic Minerals Directorate (AMD) has been conducting tests on soil in Allapatna village to unearth lithium deposits, villagers and workers are not aware of what they are searching for. Following reports of rich lithium deposits, farmers are now demanding compensation as mining is being undertaken on a fertile land where crops are grown all through the year.

The search for Lithium is being conducted on a regular basis with around 25 to 30 people from nearby villages employed for digging the soil. Local villagers believed that the search was for Mica (Kaage Bangara).

Farmers of Allapatna and Marlagalla villages are demanding compensation for the land. "Many people are digging the land for lithium now. The land has been allocated to us in 1978 and we are growing ragi and horse gram. We are losing our land due to excavation and the Government must compensate us for land loss," said farmers.

Officials, however, clarified that the lands where the excavations are being done, are under the control of AMD. If the farmers provide evidence that the lands belongs to them, the same would be verified and the Government will take a suitable decision.

Evening walker robbed of gold chain

Mysuru, Feb.22 (RK)- An incident of two bike-borne miscreants snatching away the gold chain of a woman walking near Bogadi has been reported on Tuesday evening.

Mangalamma, a resident of Bogadi Layout, was on her evening stroll at the 12th Cross of the Layout, behind Hari Vidyalaya, at around 6.30 pm, when the two unidentified youths approached her asking for an address. While her attention was diverted, the duo managed to yank off a part of the gold chain, weighing about 20-gm, out of the 40-gm gold chain Mangalamma was wearing, and fled from the spot.

Saraswathipuram Police, who received information, arrived at the spot, conducted mahazar, registered complaint and are conducting investigation.

Mahashivaratri celebrations

Avadhoota Datta Peetham

Mysuru, Feb. 22 (MTY&DM)- Mahashivaratri festival was celebrated with traditional zeal and fervour in the city yesterday. Devotees made a beeline to many Shiva temples across the city, right from early morning. Some devotees also observed fast and kept night vigil, in keeping with the traditional practice.

Braving the scorching sun, devotees queued up for darshan at Trinayaneshwara Swamy Temple in the Palace premises, where the deity of Lord Shiva was adorned with a 11-kg golden mask (Chinnada Kolaga), gifted by the erstwhile Mysuru rulers in 1952 following the birth of Srikanta Datta Narasimharaja Wadiyar. The Kolaga was brought from the District Treasury to the Temple on Thursday under tight police security. The puja began at 4.30 am, with the temple priests performing Rudrabhisheka, Bilwarchane and other rituals, following which the temple was opened for devotees, who continued to throng the temple till midnight.

A large number of devotees were also seen at 108 Shivalinga Temple in Sri Shivashilpi Bramharshi Gurukula premises on Ramanuja Road. Special pujas were performed at Sri Kameshwara-Kameshwari Temple also on Ramanuja Road.

Other temples in the city which witnessed heavy rush included Chandramouleshwara Temple at Mathru Mandali Circle, Maruti temple in T.K. Layout and Mahadeshwara temple in Lashkar Mohalla.

Homas and special pujas marked the celebrations at Avadhoota Datta Peetham on Nanjangud Road. The Nada Mantapa in the Ashrama premises was specially decorated for the festival and cultural programmes were held.

There was a heavy rush at Mahalingeshwara Temple in Srirampura, Prasanna Vishweshwara Temple in Chamarajapuram, Chandramouleshwara temple in K.G. Koppal, Ramalingeshwara temple in Vidyaranyapuram, Mukkanneshwara Swamy temple in Ashokapuram and Mahadeshwaraswamy temple in Kumbarakoppal.

The MCC authorities checked the quality of Prasada and food served to the devotees.

Today, the deity of Chandramouleshwara temple at Mathru Mandali circle was taken in a procession in the main thoroughfares of the locality.

Nanjangud: Srikanteshwara temple in the Temple town, popularly known as 'Dakshina Kashi,' was a beehive of activity from dawn on Friday. Thousands of devotees thronged the temple and the temple authorities had made special arrangements to facilitate the devotees to have early darshan.

While people stood in long queues at various Temples across the city to have darshan of Lord Shiva and offer prayers on the occasion of Mahashivaratri, city-based artist L. Yogananda showed his devotion in an artistic way. He made this 6x8 ft. portrait of the Deity using Bilva Patra, Vermilion (Kumkum) and oil, offered by the devotees, at the premises of Trinayaneshwara Swamy Temple, popularly known as Trineshwara Swamy Temple in Mysore Palace, last evening.

Musings on 'Conversation' with Jairam Ramesh

Om Namah Shivaya. After a wakeful night, in fits and starts of course, to observe the Night of Shiva, the third of the Triumvirate Brahma, Vishnu and Maheshwara of the Hindu pantheon, I was in no mood to write this column. However, the morning before Shiva's night there was an interesting event at the Rotary West organised by the Mysore Literary Association. It was to launch Rajya Sabha MP Jairam Ramesh's book, a biography, on our former first High Commissioner of India in England and the Defence Minister V.K. Krishna Menon — A Chequered Brilliance: The Many Lives of V.K. Krishna Menon.

Author and MP Jairam Ramesh in conversation with former Diplomat Ravi Joshi at Rotary West auditorium in Saraswathipuram yesterday at the book launch programme organised by Mysore Literary Association.

Since I had much admiration for Jairam Ramesh, a genuine intellectual and much learned, unlike the crowd of pseudo-intellectuals (and, of course, pseudo-secularists) found in his Congress party, I decided to yield to the loving persuasion of my old friend Prof. K.C. Belliappa, the President and father of the Literary Association, to attend the event.

Like always, the welcome speech by Prof. Belliappa was music to my ears, no matter it bordered on flattery. True, sometimes truth also sounds like flattery. This may be one such time, but I fully agree with the Professor who may not have anything to benefit from an out-of-office former Minister! He said that in the Congress party there were only two great intellectuals today. I knew he would name Jairam Ramesh as one and even as I was wondering at the second name, he said it — Shashi Tharoor. I heaved a sigh of relief. Thank God he did not say Rahul Gandhi or P. Chidambaram !

The hall was full of retired people and the absence of youngsters was conspicuous. After all, Krishna Menon, about whom much has been written and spoken about, would be a non-entity to the present generation and for the oldies a bore at this distance of time. I admire the courage and gumption of Jairam Ramesh for venturing on this book. Best of luck. As long as archives are open it is not a big deal to write biographies of this kind and size. The avoirdupois. This is not to make light of his labour. After all, writing is his second nature if we look at the number of books he has written.

On occasions such as this, we generally find the person chosen to engage the author in 'conversation' dominating the proceedings eclipsing the author. But it did not happen here yesterday. Ravi Joshi, mentioned as a retired diplomat and also as a R&AW (Research & Analysis Wing) man has done his homework well, introduced the book in a perfect format and asked questions that were brief and to the point. I thought the answers too would be to the point with clarity. But, Jairam Ramesh was seen going at a tangent that Ravi Joshi seemed struggling to rein him in. After all, the audience would not have read the book, so this 'conversation' should be like the sweetmeat shop owner giving his customer a piece of halwa as a sample to savour. Hmm, if he smiles and smacks his lips, the customer orders for a kg of halwa !

At the end, it was announced that Jairam Ramesh would field questions from the audience. As usual some gave lectures, rather than asking a question. Ravi Joshi managed and Jairam Ramesh struggled to find a question in what was spoken and said something by way of answer. The next question please...

The show was over. As I and my friend got up to move out, some one called my name and asked, "Any question from Ganapathy." It was true I had three questions to ask but abandoned them not to disappoint others. The questions I had in mind were certainly not about Field Marshal K.M. Cariappa about whom Jairam Ramesh had made an uncomplimentary remark and to which I had written in this column as a rebuttal nor about the resignation of Gen. K.S. Thimayya when Krishna Menon was the Defence Minister. One question related to what the author and Journalist Tavleen Singh (bete noire of Sonia Gandhi) had written about Jairam Ramesh in her book 'India's Broken Tryst'; another question was about what Khushwant Singh, the renowned author and journalist had written about Krishna Menon and the third one was about what Jairam Ramesh had said about Prime Minister Modi without naming him while answering a question from Ravi Joshi.

I decided to ask the last of the questions mentioned above. Jairam Ramesh had said that though a demand was made by our Defence Minister Krishna Menon for higher allocation of budget for Defence, Nehru, the then Prime Minister, could not oblige... and then said, 'Nehru had to consult others in the Cabinet...unlike it is now.' The innuendo in this passing remark was obvious to those who are familiar with Congressmen who are Modi baiters, whenever opportunity presents. Like the present one. All that Jairam Ramesh was trying to say in a subtle, clever way was that Nehru was a great Democrat, with capital D, while the present Prime Minister Modi is NOT.

I asked him, why he brought in the present Prime Minister in his answer and to elaborate on it. Well, he did elaborate repeating the first part of his answer given to Ravi Joshi but did not answer the second part.

I guess, with old journalists 'habits die hard.' I told him that he did not answer my question, the critical part of it. Why did he allude to the present Prime Minister? Of course, by now the audience began to melt and Jairam Ramesh got busy signing his books.

History is replete with examples of wise and brilliant people serving under rulers and leaders like Emperor Nero, Tughluq and Hitler. In contrast we have the example of such wise and brilliant people serving under emperors like Ashoka the Great, Akbar the Great and Krishnadevaraya of Vijayanagar empire. I do not know under which of the above two kinds Jairam Ramesh served as a Minister. But let me relate an episode from Tavleen Singh's book. Readers may easily digest it and understand with regret how good people like Jairam Ramesh sometimes compromise on principles and ethics of life.

Newspaper readers and the rich people must have heard about a futuristic city that Nationalist Congress Party (NCP) supremo Sharad Pawar's nephew Ajit Pawar is constructing near Pune known as Lavasa. It was a city with a footprint the size of Paris. Tavleen Singh writes that it would be a new city of a kind never seen anywhere in India with total environment compliance.

But why did Sonia Gandhi, through the Environment and Forest Minister Jairam Ramesh, order the issue of notice to Lavasa Corporation "to show cause why the city should not be demolished for violating environmental permission?" As a result, the work on the project was stopped and the matter went to the Court causing inordinate delay in completing the project and financial loss.

Tavleen Singh writes, Sonia Gandhi wanted to "Put her old bête noire Sharad Pawar in his place." "She appears never to have forgiven Sharad Pawar for raising the issue of her Italian birth." He was consistently opposed to the idea of India having an Italian Prime Minister. So he had to be punished. I was surprised that a man like Jairam Ramesh seemed simply yielding to Sonia Gandhi's, apparently, vengeful act.

Enough for now.

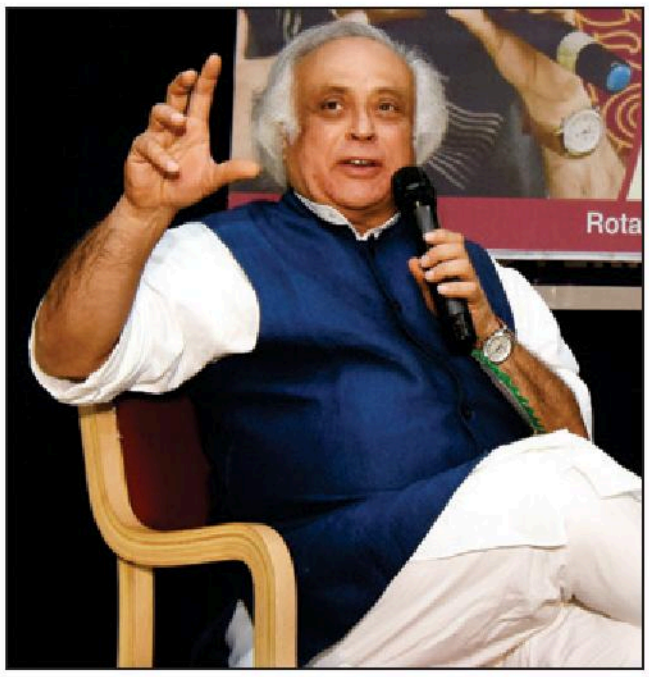
Biography of V.K. Krishna Menon launched in city



Jairam Ramesh at the book launch in city yesterday.

Mysuru, Feb. 22 (PM&BCT)- Vengalil Krishnan Krishna Menon (V.K. Krishna Menon) continues to draw our attention not just because he was Jawaharlal Nehru's confidant and political soul-mate but also for many of his own political and literary accomplishments.

A relentless crusader for Indian independence in the UK in the 1930s and 1940s, he was a global star at the United Nations in the 1950s before he was forced to resign as Defence Minister in the wake of India-China war of 1962. Meticulously researched and based entirely on new archival material, Rajya Sabha MP Jairam Ramesh's biography, 'A Chequered Brilliance: The Many Lives of V.K. Krishna Menon', reveals Menon in all his capabilities and contradictions.

The Mysore Literary Association, headed by Prof. K.C. Belliappa as its President, had organised a programme to launch Jairam Ramesh's book at Rotary West auditorium in Saraswathipuram yesterday. Retired diplomat Ravi Joshi was in conversation with the author.

"This new biography does not intend to eulogise Krishna Menon for his numerous contributions nor to castigate him for his many sins. It is instead meant to be a clinically objective narrative of his chequered life. I narrate a complex tale letting the written materials speak for themselves," he said.

"For Menon to find a place in today's politics, you need a Nehru, because Krishna Menon would not have been Krishna Menon had Nehru not embraced him intellectually and given him space, got him into politics, got him elected to the Rajya Sabha and then the Lok Sabha and inducted him into the Cabinet," Ramesh said.

"Menon was a modern science-oriented, Left-leaning, liberal intellectual whose friends in England were Nehru's friends, who read the same books, moved in the same intellectual circles. So Nehru got a lot of intellectual stimulation from Krishna Menon and both gelled well. To understand Indian politics of 20th century especially pre and post-independence one must understand Nehru and his actions and to understand Nehru and his actions one must understand Krishna Menon," the MP said.

United by differences

On Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, Jairam Ramesh said that both Nehru and Patel were united by differences and both helped India navigate the most turbulent period in the history of India. "Most of the people think Nehru and Patel were enemies but they were just rivals, opponents and adversaries and surely not enemies because they were united by differences. Both believed in strong republican democratic India. It has to be remembered that India survived the trauma of 1947 largely because of the combined leadership of Nehru and Patel who functioned as Jugal-Bandi," he said.

Further explaining how Nehru and Menon did not believe in the Soviet political system he said, "India was the only country in the world which started out as a socialist with a democratic system. All socialist countries were communist in nature. Neither Nehru nor Krishna Menon believed in the Soviet political system but was impressed by Soviet Union's achievements in the field of industries, rocket science and space," he said.

Political Pawns?

On 20th of February at an anti-CAA event in Bengaluru, a 19-year-old Amulya Leona, an under-graduate student, was given the microphone to say a few words against the CAA. And she did so in dramatic fashion.

She began by shouting "Pakistan Zindabad." Then after a dramatic pause she again shouted "Pakistan Zindabad", hoping the bewildered crowd would join her. Then before she could continue with her third Zindabad there was pandemonium on the podium. The episode ended with her arrest.

More and more students are making political statements that don't quite send an anti-CAA message but instead are meant to create controversy. It makes one wonder, is it actually controversy that they are looking for? After all, controversy means publicity which could turn into a 'political career' opportunity.

Because, while Amulya now says her real intention was to say 'Zindabad to all countries' like she had mentioned in her facebook post, one has to ask, did she have to start her special 'Zindabad series' with Pakistan? Why didn't she start with 'Hindustan Zindabad?' Why did she have to give a dramatic pause after shouting 'Pakistan Zindabad?' Well, she obviously did it for effect. She did it to be noticed. And noticed she was.

In recent times after Kanhaiya Kumar became an overnight sensation, students with an inclination for professional politics seem to sniff an opportunity in protests.

Today many student leaders simply see their position in the Student Organisations as a stepping-stone to a larger career in politics. They have examples in politicians like Sitaram Yechury, Prakash Karat, Nitish Kumar, Arun Jaitley, Kamal Nath and even Ambika Soni, who were all student leaders.

Political parties always scout for student leaders and if they are already famous they are deployed to the field immediately. Remember when Sitaram Yechury of CPI(M) announced to the media that Kanhaiya Kumar would be campaigning for the party while Kanhaiya Kumar was still telling Barkha Dutt of NDTV that he was just a student leader who wants to fix student problems and be a teacher?

Back then Kanhaiya was a 30-year-old pursuing his Ph.D in African Studies and we wondered where he would teach this subject after his thesis?

But we got the answer in 2019 when he was given a CPI(M) ticket to contest from Begusarai, Bihar, which he lost. So a Ph.D student leader, who in 2016 said he wanted to be a teacher, just 3 years later, in 2019, had leap frogged to being a national leader! A short cut any party worker or political aspirant would die for.

Yes, political parties want to mould impressionable minds. That is why everyone one of them has a student wing — Congress has National Students Union of India (NSUI); Trinamool Congress has the Trinamool Chhatra Parishad (TMCP); CPI(M) runs All India Students Association (AISU). And, of course, there is the Akhil Bharatiya Vidyarthi Parishad (ABVP), which is actually NOT the student wing of BJP but of Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS). In fact, ABVP was founded before the BJP ! Even toddler of a political party, AAP, has a student wing — the Chhatra Yuva Sangharsh Samithi (CYSS).

Now, what is disturbing is that, after students, political parties and their shadow organisations are deploying women and children to the front lines.

Even the Police seem to have gone easy on the men and politicians who spew venom while going after women and children vehemently.

Minister of State for Finance and Corporate Affairs Anurag Thakur began a slogan against anti-CAA protestors which ended with the crowds chanting "shoot them" and an impressionable young man did so. Yet he was happily seen standing next to the Finance Minster presenting the budget while three children are interrogated for hours because they had a drama where a child said, "hit them with chappal if they ask for citizenship papers!"

While Waris Pathan of AIMIM, who spews seeds of communal hatred saying "15 crore will finish 100 crore" is only issued a notice, a publicity seeking 19-year-old is sent to jail for a publicity stunt gone wrong.

It seems, men in politics are cowards. Cowards because they want to fight their political wars with the sweat and futures of women and children.

Yes, it is indeed healthy to have a student body but only if it actually works towards improving the quality of education and environment in a University. But empirical evidence has shown that Student Unions don't work so positively or apolitically. Very rarely have we heard a student body fight for better syllabus, better lab equipment or better teachers. It is usually for better canteen food, fee increase or for a political party's ideology.

That is why former Bangalore University VC Prof. M.S. Thimmappa said "Students must focus on studies and political organisations by pouring money will only distract young people from it. We should give students leadership training, not rowdy training."

Sure, student activism is an important part of democracy, but now, "intellectualism" in activism has been replaced by "hooliganism." Student Unions, instead of exploring, questioning and debating issues in a cultured and educated manner at University auditoriums are debating with sticks and fists on campus grounds.

How many Universities have had a calm, civilised and informed debate about CAA on its campus? None.

For now, let's hope political parties and shadow organisations stop using students and children in their political game-plans. Universities are temples where students should explore, experiment and excel instead of being indoctrinated into 'un-debated' narrow political ideologies.

Bon Voyage

Mysore Airport at Mandakalli is well-known for the speedy pace of developmental activities. Even passengers showed interest and enthusiasm to travel from this tourist city to various destinations — Hyderabad, Chennai, Bengaluru, Goa, Cochin and Belagavi. Passenger flow ensured over 80 percent to 85 percent average flight occupancy all through on season and off season, especially under Ude Desh Ka Aam Nagarik UDAN (Regional Connectivity Scheme- RCS). Many destinations are connected, giving fillip to the RCS with full potential. This Weekend Star Supplement profiles the Mysore Airport that is alive and kicking now, thanks to Government schemes and the initiatives taken by elected representatives and officials.

Mysore Airport gets more wings

Airport Authority of India (AAI) that governs the Mysore Airport has taken various measures to improve facilities, quality and on-time delivery measures to bring cheers, appreciation and accolades from general public to well-known international bodies.

Since Mysuru is known to be a cleanest city under Swachh Bharat Abhiyan, AAI has adopted many environment-friendly programmes like Single Use Plastic-Free Airport and thereby keeping its greenery intact by planting more than 1000 saplings in coordination with District Forest Authorities.

Giving fillip to the facilities inside the passenger movement areas, AAI has brought Medical Inspection/Emergency Medical room inside Terminal Building attending various medical issues from arrival and departure of passengers and delivering on time though Expression of Interest model by BGS Apollo Hospitals, Mysuru.

Since the demand of passenger facilities increased especially during early morning and evening times-when the flight frequency is more, passenger seating chairs, visitor chairs, catering to international standards were brought in. Also, facilities including public toilets, purified potable water dispenser units, snack bar, parking facility, visitors entry, sanitary napkin vending machine, television facility at security hold area for entrainment and trolley retrieval system and also several other facilities and amenities were added to realise more happy journeys and comfort to the travelling fraternity.

Ensuring security and generating revenue

Taking security and safety into high consideration, meeting the requirements specified by Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) and Bureau of Civil Aviation Security (BCAS), security forces have been enhanced. Daily routine check by Bomb Detection Team (BDTS) with dog squad is being carried out and also all operational duties are checked using breath analyzer to ensure safe and better functioning standards.

New updated Flight Information Display System (FIDS) is under progress. To facilitate passengers with better communication, free 5G WiFi facility is being provided. Advertising rights were given to agencies to generate revenue in order to develop more facilities and thereby focusing on holistic Airport development.

More flying hours accommodated

More flying/watch hours were accommodated for scheduled and non-schedule flight operations and also for pilot training institute by Orient Flying School along with NCC programme. This Airport was instrumental in mitigating disasters as per the Disaster Management Plan during flood and other calamities in Karnataka and neighbouring Kerala by supporting beyond duties to facilitate rescue operations by Indian Air force (IAF) and other defence establishments. Karnataka government utilised the services of Airport for cloud seeding in drought-prone areas.

A 100 ft monumental flag was commissioned to give respect to freedom fighters and to flutter 24X7 keeping the patriotic spirit of the nation to the highest level. KSRTC Volvo bus facility was provided for every incoming movement from every destination right at the arrival which made the city connected at all times. Moreover, a proposal has been made to connect Ooty and Kodagu on all days, keeping tourism connectivity at priority. In addition, car rental service facility is in the pipeline.

Every now and then VIP-I, II and III along with cabinet ministers and Chief Ministers of States and many executives have utilised the services.

Coming to Human Resource Management, AAI has trained students of aviation and non-aviation backgrounds with qualitative educational methodology through training and internships. Various programmes have been held to celebrate and bring awareness to employees as well as public like Swachh Bharath Abhiyan, Vigilance Awareness Week, National Safety Day, National Fire Day, Republic Day, Independence Day, World Environment Day, Deepavali and Dasara festivals by illuminating the Airport.

AAI, Mysuru has been awarded 3rd position — pan India — in the contest held for the best decorated airport in category-III for Independence Day decoration. Bird chasers along with zone guns have been employed for bird-hit-free air movements.

Mock drills to prepare for emergencies

Various in-house drills and mock exercises were conducted to face real-time experience during emergency evacuations and contingencies like fire drills, bomb threat evacuation, counter terrorism, anti-hijacking in coordination with district administration and National Security Agencies. Recently on Jan. 21 and Jan. 22, AAI Mysuru and National Security Guard (NSG) conducted real-time counter terrorist mock exercise at this Airport in coordination with State Police, Mysore City Panthers and Garuda commandos, Bengaluru.

AAI has taken various initiatives to acquire the land for Future Expansion of Airport to cater to wide-bodied aircraft and thereby enhancing the potential to the exponential level for more movements and helping increase non-aeronautical revenues through commercial activities at city side.

Intensive study has been conducted on land survey of the required land to construct an underpass on the adjoining National Highway (NH-766). Estimate for wall-to-wall grading has been submitted for maintaining standards of operations and also to bring unutilised land for development to generate revenue.

Apron Extension to cater two more number of ATR 72s is under progress to meet the requirements of more movements and connectivity to destinations like Mangaluru, Coimbatore, Tirupati, Shirdi, Hubballi, etc.

Various works are in progress to accommodate public facilitation like construction of public toilets, canteen, staff parking, bus shelters etc. Keeping rain water harvesting and beautification in mind, landscaping has been done at both city side and air side for aesthetic presentation.

Various measures are being taken to follow recent upgraded technologies by updating knowledge. Taking cognizance of various departments, security agencies and stakeholders are trying to provide world-class facilities.

Healthy rise in occupancy rate

From Sept.17, 2017 to Jan. 20, 2020, a whopping 1,85,254 passengers have landed and taken off from the Mysore Airport at Mandakalli, the Airport that was once a grazing land for bovines.

This increased flight operations from the Airport became a reality after the Narendra Modi Government introduced the UDAN scheme and after Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha and Mysore Airport Director R. Manjunath took keen interest in convincing the Civil Aviation Ministry and airline operators to introduce more flights as Mysuru has the potential. Following this, many new flights were introduced and this saw a healthy rise in the occupancy rate.

The Airport that handled only one flight to Chennai in 2017 now handles eight flights and 16 routes including Belagavi, Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Kalaburagi, Goa and Chennai.

Pratap Simha

R. Manjunath

The Kochi flight has been grounded as works on upgrading the Cochin International Airport is on and will be completed by March this year when the flight services will resume. Then, the total flights operated from Mysuru will touch nine and there are plans to introduce more flights to different destinations.

Dasara 2020 publicity

Soon after the Budget Session, the Minister will convene a meeting with authorities concerned and start Dasara promotional activities from April itself. "Every year promotional activities will begin in September, hardly a month before Dasara. In such case, forget international, even domestic tourists cannot make it to the event. Considering this we are making an early plan this time," Minister C.T. Ravi announced.

Asserting the importance of playing right hosts to tourists visiting Mysuru exclusively to witness the 10-day Nada Habba celebrations, Ravi said that efforts must be made to inform stakeholders, hoteliers and tour operators about the initiatives taken by the Tourism Department to attract more visitors to Mysuru by taking up publicity in different parts of the country. He added it was the task of the locals to join hands with them to see that tourists do not go back with a bad experience. Even tourism stakeholders in Mysuru are in favour of early promotional campaigns as according to them, publicity campaigns should not be restricted to Mysuru alone. Information dissemination must be far and wide, they said.

"We must ensure that all the Dasara events are properly publicised. Every year, a host of events are held and most of them are not given wide publicity. Advance publicity is necessary for tourists so that they can plan their itinerary. Publicity materials on flights that operate from Mysuru can go a long way in attracting tourists to Mysuru," stakeholders opined.

Awareness Programme on IPR

Mysuru, Feb. 22- Ministry of Micro Small and Medium Enterprises - Development Institute (MSME-DI), Bengaluru, in association with Mysore Chamber of Commerce and Industry (MCCI), has organised an awareness programme on 'Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) and GeM (Government e-Marketplace) Portal' at The Quorum Hotel on Vinoba Road in city on Feb.25 at 10.30 am.

Sudhakar S. Shetty, former President, Federation of Karnataka Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FKCCI), Bengaluru, will be the chief guest. G.R. Akadas, Director, MSME-DI, Bengaluru, will preside.

Dr. T. Ramakrishna, Chairperson-IPR Chair, National Law School of India University (NLSIU), Bengaluru, will deliver the keynote address. B. Shivashankar, Chief Executive, SJCE-STEP, Start-up and Incubation Centre, Mysuru, will be the guest of honour.

Double murder on Shivaratri night shocks Pandavapura

Pandavapura, Feb. 22 (Nagaiah&DM)- Even as people from most parts of the State were observing Shivaratri 'Jaagarane' (Night vigil), a double murder on Shivaratri night has shocked the Sugar town of Pandavapura in Mandya district. Suresh alias Koli Suresh and Nagaraju of Mahdeshwarapura in the taluk are the ones who were knifed to death.

Koli Suresh, an auto driver and Nagaraju, a JCB owner, were standing near a Tea-shop located close to a temple in Mahadeshwarapura late night on Friday, when a group of miscreants assaulted and stabbed the duo to death over an old rivalry. It is suspected that the murder was committed over a love affair and financial issues.

The Police have taken Krishna, a local Rowdy-sheeter into custody for questioning, while two others — Suresh and another youth — who too are said to be involved in the murder, have gone absconding, it is learnt. Pandavapura Police, who have registered a case in this regard, are investigating.

Four boys drown in H.D.Kote

H.D. Kote, Feb. 22 (Srinidhi& DM)- Even as Mahashivaratri fervour gripped the entire State on Friday, a pall of gloom descended in the Taluk as the news of four boys having met a watery grave in a village lake, spread, by Friday evening.

As it was a holiday yesterday on account of Shivaratri, four boys, all in their teens —Yashwanth (15) and Rohit (14) who are brothers from Savve village, Kiran(14) and Kendaganna (14), both residents of G.G. Colony and students of a Government School in the taluk — went for a swim at Padukote Lake near Malabar Shed at about 4 pm. But all of them were caught in strong current minutes later and drowned, it is learnt. Local swimmers who rushed to the spot, succeeded in fishing out all the four bodies by sunset.

The bodies were shifted to H.D. Kote General Hospital, where the post-mortem was conducted this morning.

MLA Anil Chikkamadu, Tahsildar Manjunath and other officials visited the families of the victims and assured them of Government compensation. Hunsur Dy. SP Sundarraj, CPI Puttaswamy, PSI Madhwa Nayak and other Policemen visited the spot. H.D. Kote Police have registered a case in this regard.

Reintroducing Cheetah into Indian wildlife a good move: Jairam Ramesh

Rajya Sabha MP delivers lecture on 'Jayachamaraja Wadiyar and the Indian Board of Wildlife'

'Sri Jayachamaraja Prashasti' to Musicologists

'Sri Jayachamaraja Prashasti' awardees (from left) Dr. Sukanya Prabhakar, Dr. T.S. Satyavathi and R.S. Nandakumar, son of Dr. R. Satyanarayana (posthumous award) — are seen with (standing from left) former diplomat Ravi Joshi, Rajya Sabha MP Jairam Ramesh, royal family members Kamakshi Devi and Indrakshi Devi, Srikantadatta Narasimharaja Wadiyar Foundation President Pramoda Devi Wadiyar and Foundation Secretary Reginald Wesley at the JC Wadiyar centenary celebrations held at Senate Bhavan on Thursday.

Mysuru, Feb. 22- "Erstwhile ruler of Mysore Dynasty, Jayachamaraja Wadiyar was a lover of wildlife and his favourite animal was the Lion and that of the then Prime Minister, Indira Gandhi, was the Tiger. Both of them had equal love for wildlife and matters of State. The Supreme Court's decision to reintroduce Cheetah into the Indian wildlife is a great move," said Rajya Sabha MP and former Minister for Environment, Forest and Climate Change, Jairam Ramesh.

He was delivering a lecture series on 'Jayachamaraja Wadiyar and the Indian Board of Wildlife' at the third segment of birth centenary celebrations of Sri Jayachamaraja Wadiyar, organised by HH Sri Srikantadatta Narasimharaja Wadiyar Foundation (SDNR Foundation) at Senate Bhavan in Manasagangothri, here on Thursday evening. The event also marked the birth anniversary of Srikantadatta Narasimharaja Wadiyar.

In his lecture, Jairam Ramesh, highlighting Wadiyar's passion for wildlife, said, "Jayachamaraja Wadiyar was appointed the first Chairman of the Mysore and Central Board for Wildlife, which was later renamed as Indian Board for Wildlife. The inaugural meeting of this Board was held at the Lalitha Mahal Palace in Mysuru and the only animal identified by the Wadiyar and the Board, to become extinct soon was the Cheetah."

"When I took over as the Minister in May 2009, I made attempts to reintroduce Cheetah into the Indian wildlife. There were plans of getting Cheetahs from Iran, Namibia or South Africa for reintroduction in grasslands habitats either in Rajasthan or Madhya Pradesh," the MP said and added that Cheetah, the only mammal to have been hunted to extinction in India in modern times, was last sighted at 1964 in Chhattisgarh, while some others say that it was last seen in 1967 in Hyderabad.

"When we protect animals, we also protect ecosystems. Project Tiger, for instance, has not only saved the magnificent animal, but has also helped save our forests," he opined.

Musicologists felicitated

As part of the centenary celebrations, musicologists — Dr. T.S. Satyavathi, Dr. Sukanya Prabhakar and Dr. R. Satyanarayana (posthumous) — were felicitated by SDNR Foundation and conferred with 'Sri Jayachamaraja Prashasti' for their contributions to Karnatak Classical music. Satyanarayana's son, R.S. Nandakumar, received the award.

This was followed by a musical tribute "Gaanarajendra Sri Jayachamarajendra" to Jayachamaraja Wadiyar by Dr. Sukanya Prabhakar and team.

SDNR Foundation President Pramoda Devi Wadiyar, members of erstwhile royal family Kamakshi Devi and Indrakshi Devi, former Diplomat (R&AW) Ravi Joshi and Secretary of SDNR Foundation Reginald Wesley were present.

Follow footsteps of Shivaji Maharaj: Scholar

Mysuru, Feb. 22 (MTY, SD& DM)- Scholar Shivaji Jois has said that today's youth should follow the ideals of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj, who is the pride of India and fought valiantly to build a Hindu Samrajya.

He was speaking at a programme organised by the District Administration in association with Department of Kannada and Culture and Shivaji Maharaj Jayantotsava Samithi on Feb.19 at Kalamandira here marking Shivaji Maharaj Jayanti.

"The 22 noble principles of administration enunciated by Shivaji Maharaj are still relevant today. Historians say that Shivaji's ancestors hailed from Soratur, Gadag in North Karnataka. A number of works written by Shivaji has been translated to Kannada. Research is still going on about this great warrior. At the age of 14, Shivaji started fighting in the battlefield and by 19, he had successfully won a fort. He is known for his courage and bravery. For 35 years, Shivaji Maharaj dominated the landscape of Deccan region and resolved to create Hindu Swaraj," he said.

"Shivaji had a high self-esteem, but he never had false pride. I would suggest everybody to read 'Swarajya,' a book about Shivaji Maharaj. I am very pleased that from the last 10 years the State Government is celebrating Shivaji Maharaj Jayanti as an official event," he said.

Mayor Tasneem, who inaugurated the stage programme, lauded the Maratha warrior Shivaji Maharaj. Former MLA Marutirao Pawar also addressed the gathering.

Gajanana Swamiji of Gowtama Kshetra, Srirangapatna; ZP President Parimala Shyam; Corporator Shobha Sunil; Kannada and Culture Assistant Director H. Channappa, Krishnoji Rao and others members of the Samiti were present.

Colourful procession

Hundreds of people took part in the procession, which featured a host of cultural and folk troupes including Gombe Kunita, Dollu Kunita and others together with a man dressed as Shivaji riding on a white horse and a couple of tableaux depicting the heroics of the great Maratha ruler.

Former Ministers A.H. Vishwanath and C.H. Vijayashankar, Samiti President N. Gopala Rao Jadhav, General Secretary K. Nagendra Avatade, M.J. Garge, Treasurer S. Venkoba Rao Kirdant, Amba Bhavani Mahila Samaja President Savita Ghatke and others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Kowtow

Pronunciation: Kow-tow.
Meaning: To kneel and touch the forehead to the ground in token of homage, worship, or deep respect; to be humbly obedient or respectful.
Origin: Kowtow originated as a noun referring to the act of kneeling and touching one's head to the ground as a salute or act of worship to a revered authority. In traditional China this ritual was performed by commoners making requests to the local magistrate, by the emperor to the shrine of Confucius, or by foreign representatives appearing before the emperor to establish trade relations. The word kowtow derives from Chinese 'koutou', formed by combining the verb kou ("to knock") with the noun tou ("head")."
Example: He doesn't kowtow to anybody.

THE ODD WORD

Kalology

The study of beauty and the ways in which beauty influences society.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Know your Onions

Meaning: To be experienced in or knowledgeable about a subject.
Origin: The first known use of 'know your onions' in print, in the 1920s, tends to argue against either of the above men being involved. While it is true that the phrase originated at a time when C. T. Onions had established a reputation, the match between the phrase and his name is just a coincidence. English grammarian and lexicographer C. T. (Charles Talbut) Onions was an editor of the Oxford English Dictionary from 1895 and continued to write reference works throughout a long and distinguished career. His last work was The Oxford Dictionary of English Etymology, 1966, which was published a year after his death. It is assumed that this is where the phrase originated.
Example: Mr. Roberts knows his onions, all right!
